Risk Warning:

The proposed products have been selected taking into account market conditions at a given moment. Investors acknowledge and agree that by their very nature, any investment in financial instruments is of a random nature and, therefore, any such investment constitutes a risky investment that is the sole responsibility of the investor.

The financial instruments offered by TRADING CENTRAL are high-risk products that can fluctuate significantly and present a risk of capital loss.

These products are intended for experienced investors with specific knowledge, aware that the risk of loss can be up to the total amount invested or even exceed the initial investment. Before making any investment decision, investors should take note of the information in the «Risk Factor» section of the relevant product prospectus and contact their financial adviser to verify the suitability of the investment.

It is specified that the past performance of a financial product does not prejudice in any way its future performance.

It follows from the foregoing that TRADING CENTRAL's liability can not be held directly or indirectly, particularly in the event of a financial loss, regardless of its amount.

General nature of investment recommendations:

TRADING CENTRAL's analysis reflect the opinions of its analysts at a given point in time. These analyses are only intended to assist the investor. The decision to invest or not always ultimately falls into the investor.

Investors are clearly advised that at no time does TRADING CENTRAL decide on their personal wealth and financial situation, or on the level of risk they would be willing to bear.

TRADING CENTRAL does not exercise, in this context, a Financial Advisory service. All information is of a «General» nature and can not, under any circumstances, represent any personalized information or advice or any solicitation or inducement to the public to buy or sell financial instruments.

Any decision concerning a possible purchase or sale of financial instruments is the sole responsibility of the investors, who recognize and accept it before any order is placed.

Consequently, TRADING CENTRAL recommends that investors make an investment decision only after consulting a recognized financial professional who has a perfect understanding of their financial and property situation.

Interests and conflicts of interest:

1. TRADING CENTRAL has put in place information barriers and a conflict of interest management policy.
2. TRADING CENTRAL has no capital link with the issuers on which it makes investment recommendations, thus guaranteeing the total independence of its analysis.
3. TRADING CENTRAL is neither a market maker, nor a liquidity provider, nor an investment banking leader for the securities of listed companies analyzed. TRADING CENTRAL has no agreement with these listed companies regarding the provision of investment services or the production of recommendations.
4. The products selected by TRADING CENTRAL are the most suitable at a given point in time, among the products offered by its various partners. The company guarantees complete independence in selecting the selected products.
5. TRADING CENTRAL never communicates to the issuers, before diffusion, the analysis concerning them.

6. Remuneration of TRADING CENTRAL analysts is not directly related to the recommendations they produce.
7. TRADING CENTRAL analysts are not allowed to take positions on the financial markets prior to the publication of analysis. In addition, the company does not allow its analysts to trade on the shares of an issuer prior to a public offering.
